The term of office of the members of the Promotion and Appointment Evaluation Committee is two years. If the membership of a committee member ends for any reason during their term of office, a faculty member with the same title is appointed in the same manner to serve on the Promotion and Appointment Evaluation Committee until the end of its term. At the end of the two-year term, the University Management Board shall make a new appointment in the same manner. The University Management Board may, if deemed necessary, terminate the appointment of a faculty member whose term is ongoing and appoint a faculty member in the same manner and with the same title.

The Promotion and Appointment Evaluation Committee for Academic Positions assesses whether candidates meet the minimum requirements specified in Articles (6.1), (6.2), and (6.3) of this regulation for appointment or promotion. The Committee also submits a report to the Rectorate containing its opinion on the suitability of promotion and appointment, evaluating the candidates' academic and scientific activities, their contribution to science and the level of this contribution, their contribution to training scientists and education, and their service to the university and society. Even if the candidate teaching staff member meets the minimum conditions specified in this regulation, the Board may express the opinion that the promotion and appointment of candidates whose academic and scientific activities are deemed insufficient in terms of their contribution to science and the level of this contribution, their contribution to training scientists and education, and their service to the university and society is not appropriate.

In addition to the procedures and principles set out in this regulation, foreign academic staff must also meet the conditions required by the Council of Higher Education and other competent authorities for promotion and appointment.

ARTICLE 6.1 – Conditions for Appointment and Promotion to Assistant Professor Candidates applying for promotion and appointment to the position of Assistant Professor for the first time must meet the conditions specified in the Regulation on Promotion and Appointment to Teaching Positions in Higher Education Institutions of the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (7.3.2013- R.G. 37- Annex III- Regulation No. 122). The application files of candidates applying for Assistant Professorship are subject to preliminary evaluation by the Promotion and Appointment Evaluation Board for Academic Staff. The Board requests a written opinion from the relevant Dean's Office or Directorate. If the written opinions are positive, the Board appoints an evaluation jury consisting of three (3) Professors or Associate Professors, at most two from Altınbaş Cyprus University and at least one from other universities. The jury members are requested to submit their file evaluation reports to the Board within one (1) month.

The Board concludes the Promotion/Appointment process within two (2) months. The Rector decides whether the appointment can be made based on the Board's report and carries out the procedures.

ARTICLE 6.2 – Conditions for Promotion and Appointment as Associate Professor

Promotion and Appointment to Associate Professorship in the Higher Education Institutions of the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus Regulation on Promotion and Appointment to Academic Positions (7 March 2013 - Official Gazette No. 37- Annex III- A.E. Regulation No. 122) and the conditions set out in the Republic of Turkey Higher Education Law No. 2547, and meeting the minimum criteria for original scientific research required for the title of Associate Professor, as discussed and decided at the meeting of the Higher Education Council (ÜAKK) on 6/3/24 and numbered 2/2024, Applicants must have worked for at least three (3) years in the relevant scientific field after obtaining their Doctorate degree. Those who meet these requirements must have worked for at least one (1) year at Altınbaş Cyprus University and have published at least two (2) papers on behalf of Altınbaş Cyprus

University.

The application files of candidates applying for Associate Professorship are subject to preliminary evaluation by the Promotion and Appointment Evaluation Board for Academic Staff. The Board requests a written opinion from the relevant Dean's Office or Directorate. If the written opinions are positive, the Board appoints an evaluation jury consisting of five (5) Professors, at most three from Altınbaş Cyprus University and at least two from other universities.

The Board requests that the jury members submit their file evaluation reports to the Board within one (1) month. Candidates whose file evaluations are positive are subjected to an oral examination by the Jury. In the oral examination, the publications in the file submitted by the candidate and their knowledge base related to the field of science they have applied for are evaluated, and a decision is made by unanimous/majority vote on whether the candidate is successful or unsuccessful. Candidates who receive a positive file review but fail the oral examination will be re-examined after 6 months. The repeat oral examination must not be earlier than 6 months or later than 9 months. Candidates who fail the oral examination for the second time must wait at least 1 (one) year before reapplying.

The jury informs the candidate of its decision at the end of the oral examination. In addition, the jury members' detailed reports, the oral examination minutes and the jury's decision are submitted in writing to the Rector's Office.

The Board concludes the Appointment/Promotion process within 2 (two) months. The Rector decides whether the appointment can be made based on the Board's report and carries out the procedures.

ARTICLE 6.3 – Conditions for Promotion and Appointment as Professor

Promotion and appointment to professorship require fulfilment of the conditions specified in the Regulation on Promotion and Appointment to Teaching Positions in Higher Education Institutions of the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (7.3.2013- R.G. 37- Annex III- A.E. Regulation No. 122) and the conditions set out in the Republic of Turkey Higher Education Law No. 2547 must be met.

Applicants for promotion/appointment to the rank of professor must have worked for at least 5 (five) years in the scientific field related to the professorship position after obtaining the title of associate professor. The candidate's publication performance must be at least equal to the minimum score required for YÖK associate professorship and must be based on different publication indices. Those who meet these conditions must have worked at Altınbaş Cyprus University for at least one (1) year and must have published at least three (3) publications on behalf of Altınbaş Cyprus University.

The application files of candidates applying for professorship are subject to a preliminary evaluation process by the Promotion and Appointment Evaluation Committee for Academic Staff. If the preliminary evaluation is positive, an evaluation jury consisting of 5 (five) permanent and 2 (two) substitute Professors is determined, with a maximum of three from Altınbaş Cyprus University and at least two from other universities, according to the candidate's field of expertise and research topic. The Rectorate decides who will be on the jury.

Each Professor on the evaluation jury reviews the application file, evaluates in detail the candidate's contribution to science, the quality of their scientific or artistic work, their managerial, constructive and developmental characteristics, and their efforts in training scientists and artists, and writes a report. The Rectorate decides on the promotion and appointment of the Associate Professor who submitted the application to the rank of Professor, taking these reports into consideration. The promotion of the candidate who has earned the right to the title of Professor is announced in the Senate.

This regulation contains the criteria for Promotion and Appointment to Academic Membership determined by the Altınbaş Cyprus University Senate. The minimum requirements for Promotion and Appointment, the promotion criteria and the scoring table in Appendix 1, and the Application Form in Appendix 2 are annexes to this regulation. The University Management Board uses these criteria solely for the purpose of evaluating promotion and appointment applications. When evaluating applications, the candidate's performance is examined in terms of both quantity and quality. During both the Jury evaluation and the Rectorate evaluation prior to appointment, the candidate's contribution and potential in the field of science to which they have applied, their contribution to education and teaching, their professional experience, their contribution to the unit they work in and the university's overall objectives, and their services are taken into consideration.

The criteria for promotion and appointment to the Altınbaş Cyprus University Faculty, approved by the Senate, determine the minimum level required for promotion/appointment to take place. Failure to promote or appoint a candidate who meets the minimum requirements does not entitle the candidate to any rights. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that ethical considerations are observed in all activities, and if a violation is detected, the relevant ethical evaluation processes are followed.

The files of academic staff members who hold positions as assistant lecturers, lecturers, and professors at other universities and who apply to Altınbaş Cyprus University are evaluated by the Altınbaş Cyprus University Promotion and Appointment Evaluation Board for compliance with the minimum criteria specified in this regulation. Those who meet the conditions specified for the position they have applied for are appointed to the relevant positions by the Rectorate.

Candidates applying for promotion/appointment to the positions of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor and Professor whose file evaluations are unfavourable may not reapply for the same position until one year has passed.

Altınbaş Cyprus University Senate reserves the right to make changes to the minimum requirements specified in this regulation in line with developments over time.
